

I am appalled that Chairman Powell is allowing himself to be bought by the media. There is clearly a conflict of interests involved, and this is extremely poor for people in the country who need diverse opinions on important issues. The mainstream media are now simply mouthpieces for the Bush administration. This is without a doubt terrible misuse of power and position.